Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ June 6, 2021

"Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them and they all drank from it." - Mark 14:23

Jesus, the perfect steward, gave thanks, just before He gave Himself up for us, completely for our salvation. He offers us the same chance to drink from His cup. In the bread and wine, we meet Christ personally. If we follow Him, drinking from His cup means our own self-sacrifice, using all of our gifts for the benefit of others and to do His work on earth.

Signing Up to Attend Saturday or Sunday Mass

Signing-up in advance is required if you wish to attend Saturday 7 pm or Sunday 10 or 11:45 am Mass for the first time. Please register by Wednesday before the weekend you wish to attend.

We understand plans or situations change. If you are registered and not able to attend, please call the office. If a change happens after Friday at Noon, please call Ray at 306-545-0592 or call or text 306-536-8920. This will enable us to contact a replacement household.

After you attend once, you will be added to a recall list for your preferred Mass. People who are signing-up for the first time are assigned to the available spaces. If there are remaining spaces, people from the recall list are assigned. You will be contacted to let you know about available openings for your preferred Mass.

Read the guidelines and protocols for attending Mass including how to sign-up.

Self-Assessment Questionnaire for Covid-19

If you wish to attend Mass, you are reminded to take the self-assessment. When you arrive, you will be asked if you did the assessment. If you did not, you will be asked the assessment questions.

The assessment is included with this bulletin and on our website and in the guidelines and protocols for attending Mass.

Muffins for Marian Centre

Sandwiches, muffins, or granola bars are being given daily to those in need. Donations of muffins would be very helpful.

If you can help, package the muffins in a container or bag that you do not want back and bring them to the St. Cecilia office during regular office hours by Friday at 9:30 am.

Donations may also be taken to the Centre at 1835 Halifax Street (back door in the alley); closed Thursday and Sunday.

Find out more about the Marian Centre including the "miracle of the muffins" in this behind-the-scenes video.

Plastic Containers for Carmichael Lunch Program

Carmichael Outreach Centre provides hot meals for those in need. They serve over 200 meals a day and are very much in need of clean margarine, yogurt, sour cream, Tupperware, etc. plastic containers in which to serve the meals.

Seasonal clothing and footwear (all ages, sizes, and genders) is also being accepted. If you can help, package the containers or clothing in bags or boxes and drop them off on the steps by the front doors of the church during regular office hours.

Ongoing Need

Wound to Wound

The image for this exercise, painted by Carravagio, shows Jesus guiding the hand of his disciple Thomas into his wounds. It is a resurrection scene, and Thomas had already declared that he would not believe Jesus was risen from the dead unless he could touch the wounds of Jesus body.

This is how it is when you are wounded by illness, suffering, loss, burdens, or relationships. You desperately want some healing, some new life, but can hardly believe it is possible through the risen Jesus.

Jesus puts the finger of Thomas into his wounds, and so touches the heart-wounds of Thomas. Thomas reconnects with the man he loves, the risen healer, and begins a healing relationship with the wounded Jesus.

It is braille for wounded people, wound to wound, heart to healing.

Statement from the Archdiocese of Regina regarding the Tk'emlúps te Secwépemc First Nation Residential School Grave Site Near Kamloops, BC.

From Archbishop Donald Bolen:

We have all heard the devastating news that has come out of Tk'emlúps te Secwépemc First Nation with the discovery of 215 children found buried at the Kamloops Indian Residential School in unmarked graves. There is an outflowing of emotion: outrage, dismay, profound grief. And we have questions, many unanswered questions that need to be asked in the coming days and weeks. This shared history of residential schools profoundly impacts residential school survivors, and indeed all Canadians.

Here in the Archdiocese of Regina, we have a responsibility to look anew to the four Catholic operated Indian Residential Schools within our diocese: the Marieval Indian Residential School on the Cowessess First Nation, the Lebret Indian Industrial Residential School on the White Calf First Nation, the Muscowequan Residential School near Lestock on the Muskowekwan First Nation, and the St. Philip's Residential School near Kamsack on the Keeseekoose First Nation. There are cemeteries at these schools as well.

Recent reports have stated that there are at least 35 unmarked graves on the site of the Muscowequan Residential School. Indigenous communities here in Saskatchewan are speaking about the importance of using the same ground-penetrating radar technology to search for unmarked graves on other sites of former residential schools. The Archdiocese has a moral obligation to assist in that process, to support the Indigenous communities carrying out that work, and to walk alongside Indigenous brothers and sisters as we face anew the waves of suffering that were part of residential schools. In the coming days, we will seek out ways to enter into conversation with these communities while also continuing the dialogue that has already begun with others so that we can offer support and assistance in this work.

As an Archdiocese, we are striving to show our support and stand in solidarity with the Indigenous community. In the last few days, we have been connecting with and supporting the kohkums (grandmothers) and friends who have been deeply affected by this. Over the past four years, we have taken a number of steps to build right relationships and to walk together in truth and reconciliation. We are mindful, however, that events such as we have heard and experienced are extremely re-traumatizing to the survivors of residential schools. We acknowledge and understand that the road ahead is long and that there is much work to be done. We are in the process of consulting with Indigenous Elders and community leaders on how best to respond as a church. We will have more to communicate in the coming days in terms of direction, ideas, and ways that we can take concrete steps as a church towards healing and reconciliation. It is ever important to walk together in a spirit of humility and repentance and to honestly acknowledge the ways that we have caused deep pain to Indigenous communities.

We know that we cannot hide the past, and we cannot ask people who carry heavy burdens from the past to set those aside. We need to deal honestly with the past, to know as much as possible of what happened, to repent and ask forgiveness where appropriate, to walk together as much as we are able in the present, and to work together where possible in building a better future.

We are profoundly sorry for the hurt that actions and decisions of our church in the past have caused to Indigenous Peoples and in ways that we presently re-traumatize by our actions and inactions. We have heard and acknowledge that apologies are not an end point but a starting point, and are learning how to walk in solidarity. On this journey, we have embraced a simple saying that I learned from Indigenous friends years ago, "nothing about us without us." As an Archdiocese, we invited Indigenous Elders and leaders to join us in establishing an Archdiocesan Truth and Reconciliation body. Since 2017 that group has helped us to identify what work can be done in parishes and schools, in formation, and in the joint pursuit of justice, and we have engaged in that work. We will continue these conversations in the coming days. A key part of what lies ahead will be working together in the field of education, so that more and more people will come to know the history of Indigenous Peoples, the wisdom of their traditions and ways, the suffering they endured, the legacy of colonization in today's society, and ways of constructively walking together today.

May the Creator bring consolation to Indigenous Peoples, perseverance to us all in the pursuit of justice, a healing of relationships, and the grace of being able to walk together in our day.

Yours in Christ,

+ Don Bolen
Archbishop of Regina

Now it Springs Forth: Looking for Ecumenical Movement with Fresh Eyes

This year's De Margerie lecture (named in honour of Fr. Bernard de Margerie, who established the Prairie Centre for Ecumenism in Saskatoon) is entitled "Now it Springs Forth: Looking for Ecumenical Movement with Fresh Eyes."

Featuring guest speaker Rev. Canon Dr. Scott Sharman, will present on Christian Reconciliation and Unity. The lecture is online, Wednesday, June 16 from 9 to 10:30 am co-hosted by St. Thomas More College, St. Andrew's College, and the Prairie Centre for Ecumenism. Register for the event.

The 2021 De Margerie Lecture is part of the ReJUNEvation program at St. Andrew's College.

Born and raised in Edmonton, the Rev. Canon Dr. Scott Sharman is the Animator for the Ecumenical and Interfaith Relations for the Anglican Church of Canada. His primary work and ministry today is coordinating the Anglican Church of Canada's ecumenical partnerships with various churches at the national level, including bilateral dialogues and commissions with the Evangelical Lutheran, Mennonite, United and Roman Catholic traditions, as well as working closely with the twenty-six Christian denominations which are members of the multilateral coalition known as the Canadian Council of Churches. He also represents the Anglican Church of Canada in a number of capacities in the interfaith context, working especially in the areas of Christian-Muslim and Christian-Jewish relations.

Teaching English in a Catholic School with Dr. Dan Guernsey

Thinking Faith Podcast with Deacon Eric Gurash and Dr. Brett Salkeld

This week we discuss teaching English in a Catholic school with Dr. Dan Guernsey K-12 School principal in Ave Maria Florida and senior fellow at the Cardinal Newman Society promoting faithful Catholic Education.

Show Snippet: "Especially with children's literature...surrounding them with literature that is more ennobling...but if all you're doing day after day is teaching kids this darkness and despair, that's problematic."

Archdiocese Resource Centre Culling

We are in the process of culling our resource centre. To that end we have a table in our reception area with books looking for a new home. You are invited to come and pick up some selections to stock your home library. There are some great titles!

The books will not stay on the table long; each couple of weeks, new titles will replace the old ones. Our building is currently locked; for access, please ring the doorbell.

Archdiocese Lay Formation Program

Forming Catholic leaders for service and evangelization.

"Learning about apologetics has been a highlight for me because it involves the defense of the faith. When it is done in a kind and gentle way, conversations with all sorts of people open up." - Dean Vey, Resurrection Parish, Regina.

One weekend a month from October to June, Catholics just like you are gathering in Regina to receive the tools and the guidance they need to speak confidently about the church, their faith, and Jesus Christ in their homes, parishes, and the world. Why not make their story, your story?

We are currently accepting applications for our Fall intake. For more information on how to register or our Covid health and safety protocols, please contact our Program Coordinator, Deacon Eric Gurash at 306-352-1651 ext 211 or email egurash@archregina.sk.ca

Helping the Cuernavaca Project With Recyclables

The project can benefit from your donation of Sarcam recyclables at any Sarcam location in Regina. Use the keyword project when you use the Drop and Go option.

Support for a Refugee Group in Regina

Please join us in a difficult task because of the pandemic – fundraising so that we can bring a young husband and wife, their 3 year-old boy, and 2 year-old girl to Regina.

The young woman has UNHCR refugee status. The little girl has a health issue. Her needs are not being met because she is part of a refugee family living in exile. This young family fled their home and are now staying in a neighbouring country, where life is very difficult. They do not belong in exile. If you would be willing to support us in raising the funds needed to sponsor them to Canada, we would be most appreciative. Her parents here tell us that they have experienced many kindnesses from Canadians and thank you very kindly in advance for your support.

Our first effort is Sarcam Drop and Go. If you wish to donate your recyclables to our effort, you can drop off your bag of bottles (Please remember to remove bottle caps), cans, cartons, etc., at any depot in Saskatchewan. Go to the 'Drop and Go' kiosk, type in Kind Welcome, take the label and stick one on each bag. Funds will be placed in an account opened for the purpose of this sponsorship. All proceeds will be toward the sponsorship of this family.

If you live in Regina and area, we are most willing to arrange for a monthly pick up. We will deliver your containers to Sarcam. To do this, call or text Bernadette at 306-537-4158.

Emmaus Family Support

One in five families in our parishes and neighbourhoods are affected by mental health challenges. Emmaus Family Support offers peer-led support for mental health caregivers. We are a gathering of individuals who are the primary caregivers of loved ones experiencing mental health challenges that meet on the fourth Thursday of each month to share prayer, mental health resources, and life experience. Our focus is on shared learning, building resiliency, walking together, and moving toward healthier lives for ourselves and those we care for. If you would like more information on how to take part, please email Deacon Eric Gurash.
